OVERVIEW

DARK FICTION | FANTASY | HORROR | HISTORICAL FICTION | NONFICTION | POETRY | ROMANCE | WOMEN'S

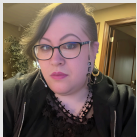

What began as a quaint and curious Gothic press has quickly evolved into a multi-genre publishing house of both fiction and nonfiction titles. Celebrating all things macabre, it is our mission to preserve the integrity of independent literature and lift voices often unheard.

PUBLISHER/FOUNDER

Quill & Crow was founded in 2020 by Cassandra Thompson, who found her skills as a librarian, English/History major, and small business owner perfectly utilized in the world of publishing. For the past six years, Quill & Crow has grown into a full company of hardworking, professional creatives. We've published over 11 multi-author anthologies and over 50 dark fiction, poetry, dark fantasy, horror, historical fiction, and nonfiction titles. We have recently branched out into the YA horror space as well.

OUR BEGINNINGS

2020

A START

During the pandemic, Quill & Crow Publishing House's founder, Cassandra L. Thompson, incorporated the company to publish her trilogy, The Ancient Ones. Networking with other authors made her realize she wanted to make publishing a profession, and the success found with the trilogy gave her the start-up capital to make her dream a reality.

2021

CROW CALLS

Quill & Crow's first publications were poetry collections created out of the poetry from writers all around the globe. It soon evolved into short story collections showcasing a wide range of diverse indie authors and themes.

2022

THE CROW'S QUILL

Along with anthologies, Thompson wanted to also give those with limited funds the opportunity to read our stories. So came The Crow's Quill, a free online literary magazine that was free to read on the website and eventually available for purchase.

2023

THE CROW SHOPPE

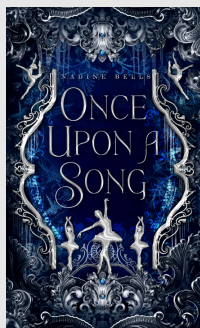

As the company shifted away from anthologies and onto full novels, Thompson wanted an easier way to get our titles to loyal customers. In 2023, she incorporated The Crow Shoppe, a sister store that exclusively sells Quill & Crow books.

TODAY

EXPANSION

As the years progressed, Quill & Crow has shifted away from multi-author collections and onto fiction and nonfiction titles in different genres. As our books continue to sell and relationships continue to be made, we are focused on new opportunities to continue our company's growth.
